Prof. Manju Singh is a distinguished academic with over four decades of accomplished teaching, research, and institutional leadership in higher education. Currently serving as Professor in the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences at Malaviya National Institute of Technology Jaipur, she brings nearly two decades of experience as a Full Professor in Economics, alongside extensive contributions to academic governance, research leadership, and policy engagement.

Prof. Singh has received several prestigious national and international recognitions. She was awarded the Sir Ratan Tata Fellowship at the London School of Economics, United Kingdom, for her post-doctoral research, and received a full scholarship for the Global Network of Government Innovators at the Harvard Kennedy School, Harvard University, USA. She is also an ICSSR Doctoral Fellow and a certified Mentor under the UNESCO Chair at the University of Victoria, Canada, where she contributed to establishing a Hub for Community-Based Participatory Research in India. Her international academic engagement includes a Visiting Scholar position at Wawasan Open University, Malaysia, and conference fellowships from the University of Windsor, Canada. She has also undertaken consultancy assignments for Lancaster University (UK), the British Council, the University of Redlands (USA), and MANAGE, Hyderabad.

Throughout her career, Prof. Singh has held several key leadership positions including Head, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, MNIT Jaipur, Director, School of Humanities & Social Sciences, Manipal University Jaipur, Head of Ph.D. Programs, Symbiosis International University, and Professor, Council for Social Development (ICSSR), Hyderabad. She is a recipient of Gold Medals in both her undergraduate and postgraduate studies from Jodhpur University.

Her research spans higher education policy, development economics, policy evaluation, and technology adoption. With numerous high-quality publications, books, funded research projects, and the successful supervision of 21 Ph.D. scholars, Prof. Singh has significantly contributed to advancing academic knowledge and policy discourse. Deeply aligned with the vision of NEP 2020, she is committed to strengthening interdisciplinary education, innovative academic programs including MOOCs, and socially responsive research that democratizes knowledge and creates meaningful societal impact.
